He is going back to the broom straw and the pine woods, to smoke his corncob pipe and show the chickens away from the mint beds.

He has been in town for three months, and has done all the damage he could, without breaking his salary by his reputation at home as a statesman.

He has made speeches on the overfunction, and the situation in Norfolk county, and he has put plenty of hardships on the liquor deniers.

He has sampled more good corn liquor than the herrible example, and has maintained his standing with his constituents at home by voting with the temperance people.

He has been foxy for three menths, and now he will ge back to the cabbage patch and resume the dull, quite life that cemes to a man who spends his days in chasing the crows away from the corn.

He will hans around the cross-roads store and cut his name in the cheese box with the kulfe that Colonel Joe Button gave him with his compliments, and then he'll go down in the meadow and dig worms for the next fishing bée.

Eddie Mellen!
There's the fellow for you!
He is one of the best story tellers on the face of the carth, and that's saying a lot, for there are a plenty of good ones, including Charlie Rex and Leonard Noel.
But Mellen rattles them off so rapidly that it almost makes a fellow's head swim to try to thisk them over.
He had us in tow the other day for four hours and some cents, and when it was all off, we are compelled to admit that our head did swim.
Then we had to call upon Eddle Earle, the life-saver of the company, to take care of us, which he did by turning us over to Doctor Gus Davis for medical treatment.

Mike is a married man—a very much married man. He has married no fewer than four times, and all his wives are still to the fore.

According to Michael's own account at the Dzblin Assizes, where he was tried for bigamy and found guilty, his experiences have not been altogether satisfactory. The judge, in passing sentence, expressed his wonder that the prisoner could be such a hardened villain as to delude so many women.

"Yer Honor," said Mike, apologetically, "I was only thryin, to get a good one, and it's not alsy."

"My singing was just drendful to-night," said the soubrette. "Did you notice how my voice broke on the top notes?"

"Don't worry about it, dear," replied the prima donna. "Your lights were very becoming."—Chicago Times-Record.

She had been taught, like other Mexican village girls, to patter off the Apostles' Creed. She did not know quite well what the words meant, but they just did nicely to boil eggs with. RICHMOND, VA., JUNE 20, 1994.—MR. DANliels, Dear Sirt. Since taking six lessons in Physical Culture, I have been entirely relieved of pain in my left lung, from which I have been enfering for nearly a year. My nervous system was almost completely broken down.
I could not walk any distance without stoppling to rest, would be so thred and out of hreath. I am now strong and have none of these feelbiggs, for which, I am Indebted to your method, and advise Physical Cultura above everything else, for it has done no so much good I feel like a new woman. Yours very truly Mig, ALICE SNYDER 63: North
